From the Teacher... Ever wish you could get a quick refresh on a skill or subject or a head start on the upcoming school year? Well then . . . Jumpstart is for you! Christ Covenant School is offering a variety of summer "camps" to support and enrich our students' experiences here at our school. The target audience for Jumpstart is twofold. First for students new to our school, this is an opportunity to work on any skills or subjects that may be new or different from their previous school experience. Secondly, for current students who would like to continue their growth by revisiting and practicing some aspect of their learning from the previous school year, Jumpstart is for you, too. During the weeks Jumpstart is offered, students will work individually with me during a 45-minute interactive session that targets those skills and subjects needed or requested. Parents can tailor the dates and times each week to fit their and their child's schedules.

About the Teacher

My name is Jeannie Brown. I was born right here in Greenville, and except for three years in Tulsa, Oklahoma while my husband was in seminary, I have lived in eastern North Carolina all my life. I have a B.S. in Special Education, a MAED in Middle Grades education, and graduate certifications in Special Education, Administration and Curriculum all from ECU. I have taught children ages six months to twenty-one years, served as both an assistant principal and principal, and worked as a Coordinator of Exceptional Children's services and a Professional Development Facilitator at the central office level. I retired after forty years and now am enjoying supporting students at CCS. I live with my husband, a retired United Methodist minister, and two Jack Russell terriers. We have two adult sons and two wonderful grandchildren. I enjoy reading, traveling, and spending time with family and friends.
