

Summer 2024

Meet The Staff

Allison Anderson: Sweet Eats

Allison was born and raised in Eastern North Carolina. She attended Pungo Christian Academy in Belhaven, NC for her K-12 education, before obtaining a degree in Culinary Arts from Lenoir CC in 2006. After graduation she worked within the culinary field for several years before opening her home-based bakery in 2009. She has served Eastern and Central NC for the last 13 years with made-from-scratch cakes, cookies, and specialty desserts.

Darrell Ange: Spartan Games

I was born in Washington, North Carolina and graduated from Washington High School. I graduated with a degree in General Education and am a Certified Fitness Trainer by the International Sports Science Association. I also hold a degree from Covenant Theological Seminary with a Bachelor's in Ministry and Biblical Studies. This is my seventh-year teaching at CCS. I teach P.E. as well as Old Testament and New Testament. I enjoy hunting, fishing, wilderness survival training and camping, and restoring and making handmade wooden furniture. Two things I am passionate about are helping others achieve their maximum potential and sharing the Gospel through the love of Christ.

Jeannie Brown: JumpStart

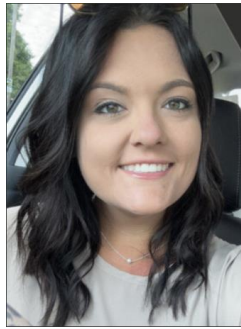

My name is Jeannie Brown. I was born right here in Greenville, and except for three years in Tulsa, Oklahoma while my husband was in seminary, I have lived in eastern North Carolina all my life. I have a B.S. in Special Education, a MAED in Middle Grades education, and graduate certifications in Special Education, Administration and Curriculum all from East Carolina University. I have taught children ages six months to twenty-one years, served as both an assistant principal and principal, and worked as a Coordinator of Exceptional Children's services and a Professional Development Facilitator at the central office level. I retired after forty years and now am enjoying supporting students at CCS.

I live with my husband, a retired United Methodist minister, and two Jack Russell terriers. We have two adult sons and two wonderful grandchildren. I enjoy reading, traveling, and spending time with family and friends.

Annette Cox: Guitar

Annette Cox has spent many years teaching music at public and private schools and churches as well. Annette is a graduate of East Carolina University with a degree in Music Education and currently, Christ Covenant School's Music teacher for K-6th.

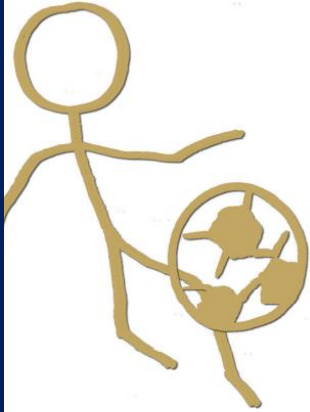

Lyndsey Cuthrell: Craft Creations and Lyndsey's Wonder Lab

I was born and raised in Belhaven, NC and attended Pungo Christian Academy and East Carolina University, where I received a Bachelor's and master's degree in Elementary Education. I hold a K-6 teaching license, K-12 math license, and K-12 ESL license. In my free time, I enjoy being with my family, going to the beach, and walking/exercising.

Taylor Evans: Cheer Intensive and Theatre

Taylor has her Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree in Theatre Arts with a concentration in Theatre for Youth from East Carolina University. While at ECU, she also acted in mainstage productions "The Velveteen Rabbit", "The Lion, The Witch and The Wardrobe", "The Just So Stories" and multiple showcases. Taylor has directed productions at the Magnolia Arts Center including "Junie B. Jones Is Not A Crook", "The Stinky Cheese Man and other Fairly Stupid Tales" as well as other productions. She has also directed "How I Became A Pirate" at Theatre Winter Haven. Taylor has worked at Walt Disney World and many theaters in Orlando Florida. She has been working with children for over a decade and has a passion for sharing the world of theater with them.

Joel Grimm: Soccer

My name is Joel Grimm, and I am the Student Life Coordinator and an Upper School history and theology teacher. I have enjoyed playing soccer since I was five years old. I began my “playing career” in Parks and Recreation League here in Greenville, played soccer in high school, and then finished up playing intramural indoor soccer in college at Pfeiffer University. I have experience in coaching soccer for four-year-olds to 18-year-olds as well. Playing the world’s most popular sport is one of my favorite things and I even have my own soccer goal in my front yard!

Nathan & Robin Hudson: Lego Builders

We have been married for twelve years and have four kids, all who love Legos. I grew up in Texas, California, and North Carolina before graduating from Virginia Tech with a bachelor’s in architecture. I worked in architecture for over a decade designing schools, restaurants, retail stores, and even a Ronald McDonald house expansion. Nathan grew up in Ohio before coming to North Carolina for graduate school. He studied physics and biology at Kent State University and received a PhD in physics from UNC-Chapel Hill. He did five years of research at Harvard Medical School before getting a job in the ECU department of physics where he has worked the past five years. Nathan was a coach, and I was a design advisor to a Lego league junior team. Outside of our work and kids, we enjoy traveling, home renovation projects, board games, and serving at our church.

Anna Ipock: Fraction Boot Camp

I grew up in Pinetops, NC. I graduated from ECU with a degree in Secondary Math Education. I have been teaching for nearly twenty years in both public and private schools. I currently teach 4th Grade. Outside of the classroom, I enjoy planning and going on day trips with my girls to interesting (and sometimes random) places.

Johnna Modlin: Sew Creative

Hi. I'm Johnna Modlin and I am SEW excited to be leading a summer camp this year! I have fond memories of sewing special creations with my mother, a former home economics teacher, each summer at our home in Fuquay-Varina, NC. I continued to enjoy crafting and sewing while in college at Salem College and while in graduate school at ECU. I have an undergraduate degree in Sociology and obtained teaching licenses in Elementary Education (K-6th grades) and Learning Disabilities (K-12th grade) and a master's degree in Speech-Language Pathology. I practiced as a Speech-Language Pathologist for eighteen years in homes, daycares, Head Starts, and in elementary, middle, and high school settings. I love watching children learn new skills and reach their goals! I also enjoy cooking, traveling, reading, and spending time with my friends and family.

Anadi Nava: Astronomy, Princess Tea Party, and Super Hero

My name is Anadi Nava. I was born in Anaheim, CA and my family moved here to Winterville, NC in 2007. We love it here and feel like this is our home. My husband and I currently have two children, Kailey and Kalan, at CCS. I love teaching Spanish to our Upper School kids and then in the afternoon, I am blessed to join the Lower School and help with kindergarten. We have a little zoo in our house. We have two ferrets, four chinchillas, three cats and we recently added a dog to the mix. We love to travel as a family and explore places we have never been before. I look forward to having your children be a part of my summer camps.

Courtney Reid: Literacy Camp

My name is Courtney Reid. I graduated from East Carolina University with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Elementary Education. I have been in the education field for about four years. In my spare time, I enjoy thrifting, hanging out with friends/family, and being at home with my husband, Asa, and our two dogs. I have a passion for teaching students and watching them grow in their faith.

Nikki Walker: Latin

I am a native of Windsor, NC. I graduated from Campbell University with my undergraduate degree (B.A. Pre-law) and later my J.D. I have been at Christ Covenant for four years but teaching since 2019. I teach middle school Latin and Logic. In addition to teaching, I still practice law part-time. When I'm not teaching, I enjoy learning guitar, playing piano and singing, and hanging out with my husband, daughter, and two dogs.

Regan Waters: Lockdown

My name is Regan Waters. I was born into a long line of hog farmers from Greene County. I graduated from NC State in 2008 with a bachelor's degree in accounting and a concentration in financial analysis. Immediately following, I received a master's in accounting from East Carolina in 2009. I worked in corporate finance before joining the administrative staff of Christ Covenant School in January of 2014. My four children attend Christ Covenant, Staten(6), Waylon(3), Austin(2), and Dalton (K). I enjoy DIY projects, reading, and playing tennis.
